Creatures of a Day is a radically honest statement about the difficulties of human life, but also a celebration of some of the finest fruits--love, family, friendship--it can offer. Marcus Aurelius has written that "we are all creatures of a day." Reviews: The chance to read another non-fiction collection of psychotherapy tales led me to pick Irving Yalom's "Creatures of a Day" off the ARC shelf at work. Dr. Yalom has written a number of books dealing with psychotherapy and philosophy, none of which I have read/5. "All of us are creatures of a day; the rememberer and the remembered alike," the Roman emperor Marcus Aurelius wrote in Meditations. "All is ephemeral — both memory and the object of.
